LEGIONAIRES PITCH DINNER TO START SEASON

Drayton Valley's Legion-sponsored trophy winning ball club, the Legionnaires, were guests at a dinner put on by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary last Thursday. The dinner was held in the Legion Hall.

Last year the Legionnaires pitched, built and opened all the other teams in the Cliffield League, composed of eight teams: Drayton Valley, Rector, Warburg, Thornby, Leduc, Mulholland and Genesee to end the season as Pennant holders, with the big Warburg Hotel Trophy on their mantelpiece.

Speaking for Legion president Maurice McCullagh, who was unable to be present, Legion member Ken Wadlow addressed the ball team with a few well chosen words. Jack Falls, who was president of the Drayton Valley Athletic Association last year at the time the League was playing, stated that he was glad to see the Legion sponsoring the Mens Ball team again this year. Referee Mel Baxter was thanked for the fine job he did last year, and Mel said a few words, followed by a short address by Recreation Director Mike Connolly. Team Captain Ken Machan also gave a short speech, and in which he thanked the Legion for their support in the past year, and pledged an even better ball team for the '61 season.

Following the excellent meal the team held their annual meeting with members of the Legion, and figuratively, at least, the first ball was pitched to open the baseball season.

Last year the Legionnaires did a wonderful job on the baseball field and this year they will be at least as good, if not better and hometown folks who go to watch their games will be treated to an exhibition of some mighty fine baseball playing.

COUNCIL MEETING

The regular meeting of Council for April convened in the Council Chambers on the 13th. April at 8:00 a.m. All members of Council were present.

The meeting got under way with the reading of the previous minutes and adoption of same, the question being asked re motions or corrections.

The list of Accounts for the month past were examined and passed for payment, and the Financial Statement for period ending 31st. March was read and filed.

Council authorized the setting aside of the period from 1st May to 11th. May as clean up time in the Town of Drayton Valley and sanctioned the use of the Town equipment to aid the Garbage Collector in a thorough pickup of all garbage set out during the period. All residents are asked to cooperate to the fullest extent in making this a successful and thorough cleanup, especially in view of the fact that the Dominion Boxing finals are being held in Town on the 12th and 13th. May 1961. It is hoped that we can put our best face forward to the visitors who will be in town during the days mentioned.

Council authorized the installation of adobe and suitable Natural Gas Heating Units in the Recreation Building to insure that the Centre may be used to full capacity during all the year, and to provide more comfort for contestants and spectators during the Dominion Boxing Finals.

These Teen Bowlers from Drayton Valley went to Edmonton recently, to bowl in the Western Canadian Highschool Bowling Championships, competing against bowlers from the four western provinces.

Our Drayton Valley Highschool bowlers did quite well for themselves and for their hometown. As a team they took third place in Alberta; while Norma Olberg took third place High in Ladies High Singles.

BASKETBALL

A Basketball Tournament will be held in Drayton Valley, to decide the trophy championship of the 60-61 season. In league play the championship of the five-team Pembina Valley Basketball League will be played about ten in the morning.

The teams participating will be Drayton Valley, Evansburg, Nitro and Umiwade. They will play in Evansburg High School Auditorium, Saturday, April 22nd. The tournament will be a straight elimination contest to decide the trophy championship of the 60-61 season. In league play Wildwood finished first and Drayton Valley High School the Pembina Valley High School finished second in the seasons standings.

The hometown team would be glad to have as many Drayton Valley and district teams on hand as they can get, to cheer them on to victory in these basketball finals.

Staff picture.

The brain-trust for the trophy winning Legionnaires stand beside the trophy that was awarded them last fall at the close of the baseball season, after the team had won out over the other teams in the Cliffield Baseball League.

They are: Captain Ken Machan, Manager Bill Devine, and Coach Les Tucker. The trophy was displayed at the season-opening baseball dinner put on by the Legion Ladies Auxiliary in the Legion Hall.

A Three Roomer found stolen on a farm here last night and is now being held in custody. The owner is looking for a good time to a party is having at his home on the farm.

The best way to tell whether a man is having a good time at a party is to look at his wife's face.

Signs around a New York corner shop "We're 10' and we're on the look like 40. Our year's business. But if you'd want to look 20, that's our business."

When the owner takes a look at his wife's face, he'll know he's got a lot to his good reputation - "being around of men" the owner says. "I hope you all, no money."

The Recreation Director gave a rundown on the Recreational Budget for the year. Due to the absence of the Educational Requisition Council had to table the report until the Budget meeting stated for the latter part of the month.

Upon recommendation of the Town Engineer Council authorized acidification of No. 2 and 3 wells to bring them back to their maximum performance.

The new members of the Recreation Board, Mrs. L.B. Gray, Messrs. Ole Olson and John Poloway were confirmed by motion of the Board also Council directed that letters of appreciation be forwarded to the retiring members of the board.

By-Law No. 232 was given three readings and declared law there by instituting a new By-Law to regulate and tax dogs within the Town of Drayton Valley. The By-Law authorizes the apprehension of all dogs not under control and the impounding of same.

Impounded animals may be redeemed by the owner by paying a pound fee of ten dollars and the license for any animal not licensed.

Because of new legislation passed pertaining to businesses, "Trades and Professions" (taxation laws) it was necessary to introduce to pass a new By-Law authorizing the Assumption and Taxation of Businesses, Trades and Professions, under the provisions of the new regulations.

The subject of Parking Matters was up for Council consideration again when the representative of the Company queried whether Council would be installing the meters retroactively ordered last fall. Council were of the opinion that since the growth of the Town seemed to be slowing up it would be best to delay decision to install for at least a year in the meantime Council wished to acknowledge the companies for business in permitting the delayed decision on the matter.

IS ALUMINUM MINED IN CANADA?

Although Canada ranks second among world producers of aluminum, this country possesses no bauxite, the ore from which aluminum is secured. Canada ranks among the top producers of the metal because of its wealth of hydroelectric power. Bauxite comes to the reduction plants in Canada from Jamaica, French West Africa, British Guiana and the United States.

The ore is first processed to a relatively pure aluminum oxide, called alumina. Alumina is reduced to aluminum in an electrolytic cell or pot, which is an open shell lined with a mixture of tar and metallurgical coke. It is filled with molten cryolite in which the alumina is dissolved. When an electrical current is introduced, oxygen bubbles off and alumina collects on the bottom of the pot. About ten thousand hours of electricity are required to produce one pound of aluminum. Every few days the aluminum in the pots is collected and transferred in large crucibles to a remelting furnace for purification into moulds.

Canadian Library Week

Canadian Community Library Week is being observed by the local Community Library with a display in the window of Hodsons Bay store. Canadian Library Week started on Sunday, April 16th and will close on Saturday, April 23rd.

BUILDINGS

Three fine new buildings in Drayton Valley will soon be completed, with the fourth getting well underway. The new Canadian Coachways Bus Depot across from the Town Reserve and the Alberta Government Liquor Store in the same block, just across the lane from the Club Cafe will be ready for use any day now, as the bookshops building next to Rock Radio and T.V., will almost be ready for use. The fourth building under construction in downtown Drayton Valley is the cement block building being erected by Bucholtz's Construction for a bowling alley.

When the Liquor store moves to its new location it is expected that the Treasury Branch Bank will open in the present Liquor store quarters.

Plans are being formulated for a new Medical Centre Building, with adequate parking space also and other changes in the downtown business district are being considered.

ROTARY DINNER

Drayton Valley Rotarians at their regular dinner meeting in the Club Cafe, were hosts to the eight high school students who wrote essays on the subject "Why I Am Proud to be a Canadian Citizen". This contest was sponsored by the Drayton Valley Rotarians and the winner received a free trip to the capital city, Ottawa. The eight students who were so honored were Prize winning essay writers: Miss Jane Schooner, Mr. Wally Mohr, Student Union President; Miss Gayle McManus, Miss Sheila Campbell, Mr. Pete Hruschak, Mr. Joe Kovacic, Miss Iris Huron and Mr. Dick Torgerson, High School Principal. Tom McManus introduced the students to the assembled Rotarians and their ladies. Rev. A. Wright, Chairman of the Essay committee, addressed the young people and made the presentation of the five Parker pen and pencil sets that the Rotary Club had purchased for each of the contestants. The sets given to the boys were finished in black and grey and the girl's sets were in red.

Rotary President R.S. "Mac" McLean thanked the committee chairman, Rev. Wright and Judges, Dr. H. Shishihashi and Elementary School Principal John Gray. Miss Schooner gave a very fitting reply of thanks to the Club for the presentation and for the trip to Ottawa that she is shortly to make.

Following the dinner and presentation Mr. Ste. Worthington showed some excellent movies of Alpine scenes which he had taken on a trip through Europe that had included the Swiss Alps.

Almost fifty Rotarians and Rotary Anna were present for the dinner.

One of the scenes of the at the Old Wives "International Night" in Ellis Hall last Monday, found these five Old Wives doing a singing number.

BERTIE BAILEY

"How that teacher can put up with me on her low salary I'll never know!"

"What's so terrible 'bout' you in bed dirty?"

Cheers and jeers, (but far more jeers than cheers) is the fare of the lonely Baseball Ump. Referee Mel Baxter takes us from baseball players and watchers alike and comes up smiling and still impartially calling them as he sees them.

In every kind of competitive sport the referee or umpire is a very necessary adjunct to the game. However, players and the bleachers alike usually forget that he is necessary, or ignore the fact, and scold him with their wrath, suggesting that he get either his eyes or his head, or both, examined by a competent specialist in those fields. The referee takes it all in his stride and goes on passing out impartial judgements.

He had imbibed too many Martinis, and was vainly trying to fix his house key into a lamp post. A policeman came along. "Sorry, old boy," said the copper, "There's nobody at home." "Gotta be," replied the drunk. "There's a light upstairs."

GYMKHANA NEWS

By Carole McCullagh

As warm sunny days approach so is the day when the Larist Gymkhana Club will sponsor its first Gymkhana. Last fall a real good time running off a few events. This season we hope to feature events as barrel racing, pole bending and stake racing as well as many humorous novelty races. These will be for all classes and I'm sure everyone will enjoy themselves the participants, even more than the spectators.

We still are needing many more people to join as associate members. You don't have to own a horse or even know anything about horses to join as an associate member. I know many people who get a real thrill watching their kids or someone they know ride and enjoy themselves. Two associate members are needed for every riding member. So come on you prospective associate members join in and have a real good time with their horse minded people of Drayton Valley.

Lady Mayhew and Lady Powers will be responsible for ordering suitable books to be awarded to worthy students in the Elementary School.

Twenty - one Ladies of our Lodge took the Travelling Gavel to Warburg on April 4th, all reported an enjoyable evening. The O.O.R.P. assisted the Ellis financially with the decorating of the Stage in the Hall, all improvements have been completed and we all would appreciate the thoughtfulness of any Club or organization to PLEASE NOT STAMP OUT ANY CIGARETTES

Looking at Recreation

By: Michael Gernsey
Recreation Director

RECREATION BOARD NEWS

The Drayton Valley Recreation Board, the official advisory body under Town Council for the planning and directing of recreation in the community held its regular monthly meeting last Monday evening, April 19 to the local Recreation Office. This, however was something more than just another meeting as no less than three new members were elected to the five-member Board. The newcomers to the Board were Mrs. Joan Gray, Ole Olson and John Poloway replacing the outgoing members Steven Lussis, Pete Noho and Jack Fells. Mr. Fells had retired from the Board earlier this year.

The retiring Chairman, Stewart Lussis chaired the meeting as well as the election of the new chairman. Mrs. Gray was unanimously elected to the chairmanship of the new Board. Thus if none of the members are suddenly forced to retire during the next twelve months the membership of the Board will read as follows: Mrs. Joan Gray, Chairman, Sid Mitchell, Gary Demers, John Poloway and Ole Olson. Yours truly serves as the personal Secretary for the Board, but always in a non-voting capacity.

The terms of office in this organization are set down in the following manner. The chairman holds this office for a period of one year but remains on the Board for two years. All other members have a two year term of service. Mr. Demers and Mr. Mitchell have started their second year on the Board.

On behalf of the Drayton Valley Recreation Board and myself I would like to offer a special note of thanks to the retiring members from the Board, Mr. Noho, Mr. Lussis and Mr. Fells for the very fine work they did for the progress of our recreation program during the past year. They all worked seasonally and sacrificed a great deal to play a generous part in the recreational and athletic achievements of the community. Their work with and among our youth was outstanding and despite the fact that they will not be serving us in an official capacity, as long as they remain in Drayton Valley they will be pillars of strength in our very important recreational work. Thanks again for a job very well done, gentlemen, and as the saying goes: "We'll be seeing you!"

I would also like to extend a warm welcome to the new Board members. I am sure that this new Board will continue to carry out the outstanding recreational policies of the past and personally I look forward to an enjoyable and prosperous year ahead in our recreational work. There will be problems, however, as in the past, I do not think that we will run into anything that can not be handled. The bigger they come, the more efficiently they will be solved. There is nothing like an optimistic outlook in this business.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEET

"We'll all set and ready on our Recreation Board, so let us take a look at the community's other body outstanding recreational organization, the Drayton Valley Athletic Association. On Thursday evening, April 20, at 7:00 p.m., the Athletic Association will hold its annual meeting and the sponsorship of officers for 1981-82. This meeting will be held at the R.P.O.E. Elks Hall and is open to the general public.

Most of the positions of office are open including that of President Treasurer, and in all probability that of Vice-President. The whole Board of Directors of the Association will also stand for reelection at this meeting.

Since in organization in Drayton Valley, the Athletic Association has been the driving force behind the sponsorship and organization of the different forms of athletics and recreation in the community. This body has been particularly active in minor league programs and in our youth work. It is commonly known that many members of Optimist International is called "A Friend of the Boy" - well with out any exaggeration, it could be equally said that any member of the local Association is "A Friend of the Boy" as far as Drayton Valley and district is concerned. The work of the Association in the past couple of years has been nothing short of tremendous.

At this time I would like to try answering a very common question as to the difference and the relationship between the local Recreation Board and the Athletic Association. Actually they are two distinct and separate organizations with no official ties whatsoever between the two. The Recreation Board is an advisory body set up under Town Council. In accord with the regulations of the Provincial Recreation Bureau for the purpose of setting the policies of the town's recreation program. The Athletic Association is an organizational and sponsoring body for athletics and other forms of recreational activity within the community. Despite the fact that they are two separate bodies, it is imperative that they work in close co-operation with one another at all times to insure a smooth and efficient recreation program. The fact that there are members on the Recreation Board who are also members of the Athletic Association and vice versa does not mean that the two bodies are inter-related, however, it certainly does pave the way for a successful, effective and beneficial relationship between the two. A Recreation Director, one of my duties is to co-ordinate the policies of the Board with the organizational work and sponsorship of the Association. If this task is properly carried out at all times Drayton Valley can boast of one of the finest and best balanced recreation programs in Alberta.

So folks if you are interested in any branch of athletics, recreation or youth work, please make it a point to be at the R.P.O.E. Elks Hall this Thursday evening, April 20th. Come in and speak your piece especially if you feel that there are any inadequacies in the work of the Association. This is the annual public meeting of the D.V.A.A. ladies and gentlemen and we the members of this Association look forward to seeing you there.

BOXING PROGRAM SHAPING UP

The advanced organizational work on the Canadian Amateur Boxing Tournament set for May 12 and 13 is progressing very satisfactorily. As you know the Big Tournay will be run off in the local Recreation Center under the sponsorship of the Drayton Valley Athletic Association.

All the ground work has been pretty well taken care of by now. Entry forms for competitors and information letters have been printed and sent across Canada, the customary award medals are about set, the seating outlay is being prepared within the Recreation Building, the program brochure is on the way and many equally important phases of the entire program are under control. This does not mean that the work is all done, however, and that the show will go on automatically from here on; far from it. In fact, the work has just begun. From here in the pace is going to be terrific. There, the ground work is done but the thousands and one proximate responsibilities lie ahead.

We expect that the applications will soon start pouring in from the different provinces across the country. This alone will increase the publicity work to tidal levels. To date no word has been received from any of the Eastern provinces. In fact, British Columbia and Saskatchewan are the only people who have shown any interest so far, and, I feel quite sure that at least five provinces will be represented at the Dominion Tournament.

The Saskatchewan delegation will not be able to name their team until after their Provincial Elimination Tournament at Lloydminster on April 29. They do, however, show signs of coming up with an outstanding array of fighters for the Valley extravaganza. Word has been received from Vancouver that a very formidable fighter is headed the way. The man will be under the direction of Bert Lowe, one of Canada's only outstanding amateur boxing coaches. As for the fighters, there are no names available at this writing, however, I am told that there are some real top-notchers on the B.C. squad.

So it looks as if we are going to have a host of outstanding talent in town around mid-May. The date is rapidly approaching and as I said I expect the last weeks and the last days to be hectic, however, the program is well in hand in every respect and there is no room for worry or doubt. As it looks now we should be able to present one of the best Dominion Tournaments ever.

PROVINCIALS IN CALGARY

The final five tournament leading to the Canadian Amateur Boxing Championships, as far as Alberta are concerned will be held next Saturday evening, April 22, in Calgary. This Provincial Tournament will bring together the Northern champions in every weight class and the winners from the South. There will be competition at the Open, Novice and Junior levels.

Four boys from Drayton Valley will carry the local colors into the Stampede City. Rufus Combs 161, Golden Roy, will be gunning for the 120 pound Open Provincial Championship and a definite spot on the hometown show in May. Orville Combs will be out for the 125 pound Novice Title. Gary Macneil is looking towards a Provincial crown in the 105 pound Junior class, while Gary Thompson would like the 95 pound Junior lambs. So it is the very same team that made such an impressive showing in the Optimist Golden Gloves Tourney that will represent Drayton Valley at the Stampede Coronet next Saturday. Gordon Cross and Don Bocher will once again be handling the coaching chores, while Andy Andersen will serve in the capacity of a referee in Calgary. Best of Luck - Boys!

A GREAT THING FOR HOCKEY

Well the big Stanley Cup series is over once more and the powerful Chicago Black Hawks came up with the old "Battered Mig" for the first time in twenty-three years. It was sure wonderful to see the Chicago team come through after all those lean years.

REPORT FROM LEGISLATURE

By: Mrs. Cornelia R. Wood, M.L.A.

The eight week term in the Legislature opened on Tuesday after the Easter recess. The morning afternoon and evening of that day and Monday and Tuesday of Wednesday were devoted to the Agriculture Committee of the Whole Assembly hearing 12 bills and one oral submission on the Government proposed Foundation Program of School Finance.

Mayor E.E. Roper of the City of Medicine Hat was the first to submit a Brief. While not criticizing the principle of the legislation before the Legislature, he urged that a revision be made of the Foundation program to allow a more genuine financial formula or allow a substantial increase in operational school grants.

The Chairman of the Edmonton School Board - R.V. Johnson requested deferment of the implementation of the new financial plan for one year in his Brief. He stated, that as presently proposed, Boards will be forced to lower their educational standards.

The Lehighridge School District #51 Brief was presented by Mr. Hoyt a member of the School Board. It proposed that the Legislature be deferred and that appropriations from the Provincial Educational grant should be substantially increased to permit the Board to offer the educational program that it considers best for its pupils.

C.W. Millock Chairman of the Medicine Hat School District #76, asked in his Brief that the implementation of the new plan be postponed for a period of one year so that more accurate data could be obtained and changes made therein.

Mayor H.W. Hays and Chief Commissioner D.A. Bacheler presented the case for the City of Calgary. Mayor Hays stated that in his opinion, the new Foundation program was sound and workable and he commended it to the Provincial Council which is proposing successful.

D.E. Bacheler stated in the Calgary Brief that assurance was required from the Government that sufficient funds from General Revenue of the Province would be credited to the Foundation Fund to ensure that the program will maintain the same level of educational standards that presently exist in our school system without producing "Unapproved costs".

H.W. Blitt, Chairman of the Calgary Public School Board, in presenting their Brief stated that the principle of equalization is not new in Alberta, but the nature of the proposed plan indicates that it is the intention of the Government to establish more control over school costs. It is impossible he said, to divorce school costs from educational services offered and the Foundation program is inadequate to provide an acceptable minimum standard of education. He requested that the implementation of the proposed educational plan be deferred for one year and a committee be set up to study methods by which the plan can be implemented in a manner safe-guarding the educational program and establishing a more equitable basis for financing such program.

A Brief from the Calgary Roman Catholic Separate School District #1 was read by J. J. Commey, Chairman. It stated approval of the principle of the Foundation Plan, but asked that the plan be tabled for one year to allow more thought to be given to the matter.

William Robertson, Chairman of the Banff School District Board presented a Brief which stated that the New Plan would raise their school will run from 12 mills to 23.57 mills and create serious hardship on the residents of Banff who have only 100 days a year in which to earn an income - that during the worst season.

Mrs. W. McCullough, President of the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations, representing 25,000 members presented the Brief of the organization, she stated that there should be a broadening of the tax base and the Plan should be based on NEEDS rather than COSTS. Local autonomy should be insured and the plan should be delayed so that further study could be made of it, she said.

The Brief submitted by the Edmonton Better Education Association was read by Allan Walsh, President. It suggested that the Plan is likely to do damage to education in the Province and particularly in urban areas. It asked that the Plan be delayed for a year and school boards, municipal councils and interest organizations be consulted.

The Alberta Teachers Association Brief was submitted by Dr. S.C. T. Clarke, Secretary of the A.T.A. He stated that the proposed educational finance plan restricts local autonomy and while it does much toward equalizing costs among the owners of real property, it still leaves a major share of the school tax burden on real property. Dr. Clarke said that a broader tax base than real property is needed to provide for equalization of the burden of education among the people of the Province. It was suggested that if income tax were used to collect revenue for educational services, it would not only provide more revenue for education, but it would collect these revenues on a more equitable basis. Four reasons were given as to why the proposed Plan should be held over for study or be modified.

The Brief of the Alberta Catholic School Trustees' Association was read by Alberta Stock. It welcomed the program and can guarantee the government upon proposing it. At the same time some exemption to the mechanism of the proposed Plan was taken. In the Plan, the Provincial Government will exercise effective financing and requisitioning powers which have been the exclusive prerogative of the local boards. It is more likely to effect economies of operation and effectiveness of administration than Provincial centralized control.

Each speaker was questioned on their Brief by Cabinet Members and Members of the Legislature, but each came out from under the barrage still standing pat on their original opinion of the Plan.

Premier Manning made a plea for cooperation in making the new Plan work and explained the thinking behind the Plan. He said the proposed Foundation Program is made up of the municipal contributions of $55,500 - 100 from the 52 mill levy plus the Provincial appropriation for grants amounting to $49,000 and $2,800, 000 set aside for contingency grants - a total of $107,300,000 for 1981. Mr. Manning said that provided there is a goodly measure of cooperation from the school boards, municipal councils, the Department of Education, and the public, this sum of money will provide a foundation program that will not curtail any legitimate expenditures.

Thursday afternoon - Private Members Day Hon. A.O. Aalborg spoke on the resolution asking the Government to proceed with all speed to ensure that the differentiated courses in junior and senior High School with different departmental examinations in grades 9/10 rather than compelling all students to take the same Basic University preparatory course with the same departmental examinations. Mr. Aalborg stated that these matters were being considered in the Legislature already and he would oppose the resolution, on those grounds. In referring to the attack made on his department and himself for not implementing the recommendations of the Royal Commission, Mr. S. Watkins (P.C., Calgary - Glenmore) the mover of the resolution, Hon. Mr. Aalborg took time to draw his attention to the Royal Commission set up in Ontario by a Progressive Conservative Government in March 1965 consisting of 30 members and five years later in 1969 brought in their recommendations. In all his speech, Mr. Aalborg said "Since 1960, I have not found where any Minister of Education in Ontario has asked in the Legislature any report as to the action taken on

Does the picture on the left look familiar? Not any more thank goodness! Blue Monday was certainly a suitable name for washdays fifty years ago. Do you remember the boilers of water set to heat on the coal and wood stove? The job it was filling the wash tubs, the back-breaking labour of washing with a washboard or hand-powered tub? It was not only a messy business but hard work too.

Today — just a flick of a switch fills your automatic washer. Clothes are washed easily, more efficiently with no effort on your part. Damp clothes are transferred to your automatic electric dryer . . . damp dried for easy ironing . . . or fluffly dried, ready to be folded and put away. Electricity — the modern miracle — works for you not only on washdays but in every way, every day.

Reports

Our agricultural economy is primarily on our sales abroad. How have we been doing? We have decreased our surplus wheat stocks by over 200 million bushels and this year should exceed the target of 300 million bushels sold.

The government has also underwritten an energetic drive to sell more grain, particularly oats in the markets of Eastern Canada. A meeting of all concerned is being held to speed up this process.

Other foods — processed, frozen and canned which we grow in Canada must be brought to the fore and placed in the market places of the world.

The answer to some of our problems is to produce more or what the peoples of the world want, and then to make it available to them at a reasonable rate. We as a Government are instituting a program to put a greater variety of goods on the market.

Reaped is a crop which can be grown satisfactorily in our area. We are hopeful that in the near future this will be classified as a grain and move under Crown New Free rates. This will mean a difference of 1/7 to 3/4 cents per lb. to the producer. More than that it will guarantee an export market for many years to come.

Continued aggressiveness in seeking new markets for all of our produce will be one of the major things to keep our agricultural program sound.

SEEDING FORAGE

Time and money is lost if the job of seeding forage seed is not done right. Shallow seeding has long been advocated for grasses and legumes, and the recommendation still holds. At (Cont., page 9, Col. 1) that report, similar to the one I tabled in the Legislature last week showing that 168 of the 380 Commission recommendations have either been implemented or in process of being implemented and 90 others under review with strong possibility of their implementation. On a voice vote the resolution was declared lost.

In reply to a question from E. Watkins (P.C., Calgary-Glenmore) Premier Manning stated that in applying the submission presented during the Agricultural Committee Hearing on the new Foundation Program, there was not much opposition to the general principle of the plan, but in the application of the program in various individual cases. For these cases, adjustments could and should be made with in an attempt to iron out the problems that always follow a great change, he said. Nothing is to be gained by further delay in the program and specific problems may be dealt with as they arise. A five member Executive Committee comprised of the Minister of Education, the Minister of Municipal Affairs, the Provincial Treasurer, the Provincial Secretary and the Minister without Portfolio will deal with specific problems, presented, he said.

Thursday and Friday mornings into the afternoon of Friday, were devoted to the Private Bills Committee dealing with the Private Bill to incorporate the Alberta Public Denarius Society sponsored by Charles Johnson (S.C., Calgary West). Six briefs were presented to the Committee by members of the Dental profession, Association of Dental Technicians and Lucien Maynard Q.C., submitted the case for the denarius. The Committee had not finished questioning the witnesses as session ended on Friday.

During the sittings when the Legislature was not in special committee, the Committee of the whole Assembly dealt with several bills in clause by clause. The game Act came in for considerable discussion and at one point Hon. N.E. Willmore, Minister of Lands and Forests, announced that it is the intention of the Government to give consideration during the next year to establishing regulations which may permit the operation of Private Pleasant Shooting Preserves.

the Lacombe Experimental Farm, have been used to find the best depth of seeding.

Brome and alfalfa were the crops sown on the surface and at depths of one-half inch, one inch, two inches and three inches. The half-inch seeding depth for alfalfa produced the largest number of seedlings, but yield in the field favoured seeding at the one-inch depth. Both surface and two-inch seedings of alfalfa were inferior.

Brome also did well when sown one inch deep although it seemed less affected by depth of seeding than did the alfalfa. With brome the greater number of seedlings was produced from the one-inch sown seeds and better yields also resulted from this seeding depth.

Weather undoubtedly has an effect on the success of forage seeding. In the hot dry weather of early July, seed sown near the surface in 1959 did not germinate until the rains came. Seed planted a little deeper in the moist soil germinated and grew promptly. Fewer plants were obtained at these depths but higher yields resulted.

In 1960, the soil moisture was more favourable but depth of seeding results were similar. It was noted also, that increased yields resulting from the one-inch seeding of both alfalfa and brome carried over into the second year.

On the basis of these tests, neither surface seeding nor deep seeding is advisable. The one-inch seeding would seem most suitable for both alfalfa and brome. Sowing in firm, moist soil aids the desired depth of seeding and promotes rapid germination.

A BAD HABIT

The fastest and easiest way of preventing cannibalism is by debarking, all the birds. This practice has proved to be more satisfactory and effective than most other methods in common use.

The exact cause of cannibalism is not known. It appears to be a bad habit brought on by a food deficiency or anything that makes the birds nervous, irritable or bored.

Many poultrymen, because they do not actually see the birds pecking one another, think that the results of cannibalism have been brought about by other factors. Pecking is generally done quickly and it is very seldom that a cannibalistic bird is caught in the act.

Signs of cannibalism in chicks and turkey poults include bleeding toes. In older birds damaged eyes and slit lower lids, featherless backs, blood around the vent, protruding and damaged beaks and dead birds with their insides pecked out are indications of this vice.

Among the more common methods of checking cannibalism are painting the windows of the house red, hanging up cabbage or raw meat, painting the vent area with an anti-peck treatment, putting mechanical spikes on the birds, the addition of 30 per cent whole oats to the ration and the addition of salt to the drinking water at the rate of one tablespoon per gallon for half a day. All these methods have met with varying degrees of success, depending upon the circumstances.

In addition to debarking the birds, good management plays an important role in the prevention of cannibalism. Healthy birds must have a well balanced ration and access to an insoluble type of grit such as granite or grit or crushed gravel. Overcrowding, over heating, lice and mites all encourage cannibalism. Nest boxes should be as dark as possible. Either community nest boxes should be used or the other should be facing away from the window.

FROM LEGISLATURE

From the Legislative Press Gallery — Russ Sheppard.

The Alberta Government will proceed with its Education Foundation Program and appoint a five man committee of the Cabinet to work with municipalities on the application and principles of the program.

Premier Manning made the statement in the Legislature following hearings by the Agriculture Committee that Saturday morning, afternoon and evening on Tuesday and on Wednesday morning and afternoon.

Thirteen submissions were made to the Committee, none of them asking that the program be delayed for one year. Among those asking for the delay were the Edmonton Public School Board, Calgary City Council, the Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat School Boards, the Alberta Federation of Home and School Associations and the Alberta Teachers' Association. The City of Edmonton did not ask for a delay but called for greater financial assistance from the Province. The Banff School Advisory Council wanted the program shown out and the Catholic School Trustees approved of the plan but stipulated that the constitutional rights of separate school support be recognized and retained.

Those asking for a delay in the program said it needs a great deal more study to make it a workable plan. The Calgary School Board said the per student cost established by the Province is 105-dollars and compared this with actual costs in Calgary. H. W. Bliss, Board Chairman said the per student cost is 275-dollars for elementary students, 385-dollars for junior high school students and 476-dollars per student for senior high schools. Mr. Bliss and others contended the Education Foundation Program is asking school boards to cut costs when they haven't the faintest hope of doing so because they are under teacher salary contract, and are committed in school construction. tion programs. It was also contended that the new program would leave education standards static, while other claims were heard that it would lower standards. The ATA suggested Income Tax as the best way of raising money for education rather than the government's proposal of a 33-m ill uniform rate, plus government gains on approved education costs.

The Federation of Home and School Associations is calling for a delay suggested a committee be appointed to enquire into the financing of education in Alberta. President of the Association, Mrs. K.V. McCullough said the government program places the emphasis on cost rather than on quality of education.

The Banff School District, through spokesman W.J. Robertson, said the program falls far short of supplying the necessary funds to operate schools in Banff. He said the plan would result in the crippling of taxes in Banff, Jasper and Waterton Parks and would boost them by seven times at Lake Louise, Cyril Shaw, Chairman of the Banff Advisory Council wanted national parks exempted from the program because of the adverse effect on taxes.

Speaking in the Legislature following the Agriculture Committee hearings and in reply to a question from Ernest Watkins (PC Calgary-Glenmore), Premier Manning said that with a few exceptions there were no realistic criticisms of the basic principles of the program. The major points of criticism were the effect and application of the program. Mr. Manning said "It is the view of the Government that it is a matter of adjustment that can be done as the program is applied. Our recommendation is to proceed with the program with the assurance that every municipality will be given the opportunity to meet with a committee of Cabinet and the Department concerned to go into the application and principles of the program. Nothing is to be begun in delaying the program for a year because at this time there would be further representations similar to those made at this time. It is in the best interests of the people to proceed with the program and to do so without impairing the standards of education". The Premier then announced that the Cabinet Committee would be composed of Education Minister A.O. Ashby, Provincial Treasurer E.W. Hinman, Municipal Affairs Minister A.L. Hoyle, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Industry and Development A.R. Patrick and Minister Without Portfolio Fred C. Colborne.

Fifty recommendations covering the operation of school buses are contained in a report tabled in the Legislature by Education Minister A. Ashby. The report is the submission from the Lawrence committee appointed to study school bus operations following the Lamont School bus disaster of November 20th that claimed 17 lives.

The report recommends that bus drivers be required to open the bus door and the left hand window at all railway crossings and that the driver observe all traffic regulations whether or not the bus is carrying passengers. It is also recommended that the bus door be left open while the vehicle is travelling across the railway crossings. All municipalities are urged to have graded at railway crossings brought up to standard and a survey of all public and private crossings be made with a view to closing all those not actually needed.

The Lawrence committee also calls for an enquiry by the Board of Railway Transport Commissioners as to why railway crossing signals should cost 10-thousand dollars and why they are available only in the United States. The report also calls for removing amber lights on the roofs of locomotives and tail cars, steps to improve the visibility of trains, a constant beeping to discover an inoperable crossing warning signal and visible and audible warning systems at railway crossings controlled by a radio beam transmitted from a locomotive.

The Department of Education is urged to encourage the establishment of bus patrols and appoint an officer to supervise the work of bus system qualifications of an "A" licence for drivers trained and tested in school buses, as well as safety regulations as to equipment required on buses, medical and character examinations of drivers, and that school bus licences be required of drivers of kindergarten buses.

Commenting on the crossing where the Lamont tragedy occurred, the Lawrence Commission said the grade was above the 8 - per cent standard. The visibility was further impaired by the slip in the road. Almost every bill received by the committee recommended special licences for school bus operators. The report concluded by saying that naturally the recommendations had been influenced by the Lamont tragedy and that it had endeavored to keep in mind that, excluding the Lamont collision, the school bus safety record in this Province was reasonable good.

The Private Bills committee of the Legislature took up two bills and an evening hearing on recommendations for and against a Private Bill to incorporate the Alberta Public Dentists Society. Purpose of the bill is to permit the dentists to dental mechanics to deal directly with the public in repairing, constructing and fitting dental plates. The dental profession has been un-derstandably opposed to the proposal in past years and again this year strongly opposed the bill saying it would lower standards, drive dentists elsewhere and make the dental profession less successful in attracting recruits to dental careers at the university. The Faculty of Dentistry at the University of Alberta, in a submission to the committee, said that if the bill was passed, resignations from the Faculty would result. The Faculty was opposed to threatening the Legislature, told such threats were out of the ethics of the profession.

BOWLING NEWS

Submitted by A. Bell

Now that the annual bowling banquet has come and gone, I hope that none of the bowlers consider the bowling season over for this year.

In play at the present time is a Team Tournament with cash prizes up for the taking. Three prizes, each of fifty dollars, thirty dollars and twenty dollars are offered for first, second and third respectively. Any mixed team of five bowlers may enter regardless if they have an established average or not. The only stipulation is that each team must consist of at least two women bowlers.

The other event that I would like to stress at this time is the "Closing Out Meeting" which will be held at the Legion Hall on Thursday, April 27, at 8:00 p.m. This meeting is open to all bowlers and we encourage you all to attend. The financial report of the club will be given and a general discussion of the past year's activities as well as a general picture of next year's bowling will try and be given. Any suggestions will be accepted and this will be the time to present them while they are still fresh on your mind. Also we would like anyone who did not bow this year but would like to join the league next year to attend and will endeavor to answer any questions they may have.

Commenting on the crossing where the Lamont tragedy occurred, the Lawrence Commission said the grade was above the 8 - per cent standard. The visibility was further impaired by the slip in the road. Almost every bill received by the committee recommended special licences for school bus operators. The report concluded by saying that naturally the recommendations had been influenced by the Lamont tragedy and that it had endeavored to keep in mind that, excluding the Lamont collision, the school bus safety record in this Province was reasonable good.

The Private Bills committee of the Legislature took up two bills and an evening hearing on recommendations for and against a Private Bill to incorporate the Alberta Public Dentists Society. Purpose of the bill is to permit the dentists to dental mechanics to deal directly with the public in repairing, constructing and fitting dental plates. The dental profession has been un-derstandably opposed to the proposal in past years and again this year strongly opposed the bill saying

Check Up on Your Spiritual Approach

BY J. GEORGE FREDERICK
More and more men in business are discovering the creative possibilities of the practice of Christian faith in business. One of these is Lee H. Bristol, Jr., director of public relations of the large Bristol-Meyers firm, makers of drug and cosmetic sundries. In his writings and speeches, he has for some years been urging a spiritual approach in business.

He says: "I believe right down to the soles of my feet that you and I have every right to challenge the old slogan that 'religion and business don't mix,' because religion—to be religious at all—must be related to all of life. As I see it, we want to develop our spiritual life not because religion is some mystic tool for success. We want to develop our spiritual life not because we believe in an open season for hymn singing in office halls. We want to grow spiritually. It seems to me, to that our lives can come closer to God's higher hopes for them. In doing so, we may see the same faces and places and situations but see them all differently because of our relationship to God."

Realizing, as a trained publicity man, that it is easy to be high-sounding but vague about such matters, Bristol has recently, with characteristic directness of language, developed a ten-point list against which one may measure one's concrete attitudes on the subject.

Bristol brings his ideas and ideals close to the human factor. His faith is not some self-cannibal "pie-in-the-sky" notion for himself, but an out-giving attitude toward his fellow men. He is much about himself, as the old saying puts it, "It is surprising how much good you can accomplish in this world, if you don't care who gets the credit."

"A good example," he explains "of what empathy means might be found in a sales manager I know. He had to go across country to dress down a key supervisor who had become a poor leader and a bad actor in every way. Although he disliked doing so, my friend felt it necessary to show the man in front of his colleagues. There were reasons for his doing so which I cannot take time to explain here.

"My friend had no way of knowing how the man would react to this showdown. He did not know whether the man would fold or blossom as a result of it. Because he was concerned about the man, and even though it meant the personal inconvenience of separation from his own family, my friend remained in that city three full weeks, (it stayed there just to see how the man came out of his showdown experience. As it happened, the man tightened up the best sales executives in the firm. When ultimately the man was the chairman's gold medal as top supervisor, I watched my friend. He was visible moved. Here to me was a classic case of a leader who identified himself with his people and through empathy saw his career in sales management as the kind of spiritual ministry it indeed can be."

In his company, Bristol endeavors to develop "each executive" into a man of faith "who sees the spiritual overtones to secular situations; who will see the spiritual overtones in that proposed lay-off, those goods and services which are not as good as ads claim them to be, who sees the spiritual side in the question of why his company can do a better corporate citizen."

"It has been said that competence and humility are essential qualities of the dynamic executive. To these I would add the quality of empathy 'for the executive deals not merely with goods and services but with human beings where empathy is a cardinal virtue."

It is clear to Bristol that the kind of religion he is talking about is not just simple social betterment. He puts it this way: "The kind of success to emerge from such spiritual development will not be some plastic fuddy-duddy running around seeing to it that Cole machines and canned music are installed for 'my people,' desirable as such notions may be."

"Hopefully, he will not be like that of his salesmen into his office to avoid him. He pulled a little out of a desk drawer, opened it up, and began his trade by saying, 'Do you know what St. Paul says about a guy like you?' I hardly think this was fair to the salesman—or even to St. Paul for that matter!"

"No, the kind of executive we are talking about here, it seems to me, is one whose life is predicated on a belief that God creates this world of ours and we are responsible to Him for what we do in it."

"Such a man has his obligation to his stockholders, to his board of directors and others over him, to be sure, but he has a definite obligation to those under him as well, to see to it that he tries to advance the best interests of all."

To do so, he wants to maintain the kind of creative climate in which his employees can express themselves, make choices of their own; in short, a climate in which they can achieve their maximum self-development. Where possible, he will want to help those under him to capture a sense of mission about the goods and services they are making possible, for he knows that men are happiest when they are making things in a 'muse' in winning a man's wholehearted dedication to a job."

In coming to grips with what the Bible has to say to our work, Bristol insists (As did Harold Johnson in an article in the Harvard Business Review) that the modern business man of faith "will want to place everything human under the thumb of God, wanting again the dignity of putting the business firm, the nation, 'free private enterprise' or the career at the center of life. With such perspective, all things pertaining to business stand under the judgment of God as limited goals and loyalties."

selected by the producers in this area to work and install the facilities necessary to achieve the desired goal of conserving 80% or more of all flare gas. Since operation began as high and 99% of this gas has been conserved to further serve Alberta.

The entire area served by Goliad Ltd. has been divided into separate areas each of which is in turn served by its own network of gathering station. These areas are known as Pembalta 1, Pembalta 2, etc.

In October of 1957 construction contracts were let and under the supervision of Goliad Oil & Gas all facilities were in operation by November 1st, 1958.

At the time of construction 279 tank batteries owned by 78 different producers were connected to the system. This figure has since increased due to installation and other centralization plants.

Each compressor station is semi-automatic and is manned by a highly skilled operator. Basically, the process is one of gas compression, dehydration and raw liquid recovery.

The wet casinghead gas enters the compressor stations under low pressure and is compressed through two stages to 470 lbs. per square inch. At this stage the gas is dehydrated and refrigerated to remove water. The raw liquid is extracted by refrigeration and then after warming to approximately plus 60, is pumped to the fractionation plant operated by Goliad Oil & Gas Company on the East bank of the Saskatchewan River.

The gas, which is now very dry, is further compressed to 900 pounds per square inch and is piped directly to North-West Utilities for consumers in Drayton Valley and Edmonton.

The gas-engine compressors installed in the plants are all 660 horsepower, water cooled type and all units combined have a total of 31,780 horsepower.

The office and warehouse for Goliad Ltd. are located in Drayton Valley. At this point all maintenance groups are located and are dispatched to the various stations as required.

Mr. H.W. Bam of Dallas, Texas is the founder of Goliad Corporation and the originator of the Goliad plan. Dr. C.T. Wells is President and Mr. Dan T. McDonald of Calgary, is the Executive Vice-President of the Goliad Company of Canada.

Local supervisory personnel are as follows:

Les Southwell - General Superintendent.
Peter Hemsley - Process Foreman
Amos Wilson - Maintenance Foreman
Henry Zuch - Management Foreman
Ed Little - Office Manager.

Goliad Ltd. places great emphasis on safety, both in the plants and all other areas of their operations.

THE CHAPEL HOUR

"But," says Bristol, "how can we best judge where we personally stand in such development? As I see it, by the test of how changed we are as a result of our faith. For after all, if I am not a different businessman, husband, and father; if I don't come back, for example, at awkward situations differently because of the reasons my faith has given me, have I right to feel my faith amounts to very much? Such a change in a person may well mean that he will 'tuned off' on an issue when he might be expected to keep still; it may mean he will keep still when he might be expected to 'tuned off' in other words. I suspect he will come back at awkward situations with the unexpected response which the inner-direction of his faith prompts."

Lee Bristol recalls businessman he has known who, although active leader in church work, could not, when asked, give examples of how faith played a role in their careers. He refers also to a survey of the prayer habits of religious steelworkers. The survey showed that the workers prayed often about their families and their homes, but practically never about their work! He is the businessman who are churchgoers and Bible students on Sundays, but on weekdays are notoriously indifferent to the needs of the human beings in their employ. Religion, Bristol insists, is too often unrelated to the business of life. "A man's Sunday self," he says, "and his weekday self are a little like a round-trip ticket - 'not good if detached.'"

Bristol - Myers plans observe "clergy days," when spiritual things are the subjects of discussion at employees gatherings. Bristol hopes this idea can be expanded and states: "Perhaps seminars should be given the chance for summer jobs in industry, or 'business internships' after graduation. Or maybe a few more of us businessmen should sit down informally with our own clergy just to let them know about our problems. We may forget this fact, but the church has been concerned with human beings for a good many centuries and knows much that could be helpful to us."

"It seems fitting to focus attention on men's daily work and religion these days, for the Bible in fact places great emphasis on man's work. I was interested to discover that the word work appears over a thousand times in the Bible. And I was interested to read the other day that the Hebrew word for 'work,' 'malacha,' actually comes from the same root as the word for 'angel' - messenger sent from God."

The church teaches that all work can be sacred that work is neither sacred nor secular in itself. It becomes sacred or secular in terms of the spirit we bring to it. In other words, a lawyer who brings someone to a law in court on Sunday may not be performing a more sacred act, or indeed as sacred an act perhaps as when he is talking across his desk on Monday to a client in the office. God is not so much concerned with whether you are the plant manager or the plant guard as He is concerned with what you are. Whether we be bookkeepers or archbishops, we all have our potential service to God measure up in terms of the work itself.

but rather the spirit we bring to it. As Bishop Filas put it: "The same clergy their work is just a job for some plumbers their work is a ministry."

"Just as the so-called creative person is often times just someone who manages to see relationships in the seemingly unrelated which others miss, so the truly spiritual person, it seems to me, is someone with double vision as well, someone who can see in seemingly secular situations the spiritual openness which when miss. Such a spiritual person may not lead psalm-singing in the Board Room, but he may very well recognize that it is a sacred act to perform when, in an unobtrusive, un-peachy way, reminding colleagues as a policy in the Board Room, but he may be affected by this or that change in the business program."

years. Personally I think that this was the finest thing that ever happened in hockey, in the long and colorful history of the N.H.L. The fact that the Bantling Hawke put an end to the Montreal Canadian dynasty and they went on to knock off Detroit and take the Cup is going to be a tremendous shot in the arm for "Our National Sport", both here in Canada and in the United States.

It is certainly great to get away from that age-old Canadian Detroit story that has held sway in the N.H.L. longer than I care to remember. And those wonderful Chicago fans who packed the old stadium night after night back in the early fifties when the Hawks were on a 21 game losing streak, it was certainly swell to see them get a break. It is a pity that the Hawks could not have wound up the series before their loyal supporters on home; however they won and that's the main thing. They will go down in N.H.L. history as one of its truly great teams - A team to remember for sure.

mission-friendship week held in Edmonton. Evening services are being conducted this week in Emmaus Lutheran Church the last being Thursday evening at 8:00 p.m.

Rev. Fox, our guest pastor, flew into Hilda from Vancouver where Mr. M. Schultz picked him up in his plane and flew him to Drayton Valley for his first service Sunday evening. His topic Sunday evenings "Life is so short". Because our life here on earth is so short compared to eternity, we should spend that life time preparing to meet our Savior Jesus Christ.

OIL WIVES' MEETING

The Drayton Valley Oil Wives Club celebrated their 10th anniversary last night on April 10th in the Elks Hall. Four members from the Brecon club and prospective members from the waiting list were guests for the evening.

The Friendship Candle was lit and the business meeting was called to order after a lovely dinner served by the Anglican W.A. A letter of resignation from Publicity Chairman Olive Adams was read. The executive has appointed Pat Sutor to the position for the remainder of the term. A discussion was held and it was decided that again this year our club would contribute $25.00 to the International Travel Fund. President Mary Walters reported that if this fund should build up substantially the International organization would be able to bring a foreign delegate to a future convention. It will also be used to sustain smaller clubs on their convention travel expenses. The contribution this year was raised through the sale of two editions of our club paper and from a raffle held Monday evening, the winners of the raffle being Bertha Simmon and Lulu Reynolds.

At the conclusion of the business meeting the proceeds were turned over to the program committee.

In connection with International Night our annual talent show was based on the theme "Around the World". There were can-can girls from the "Cafe Le Ball du Paradi", Spanish and Mexican dancers, an Irish tenor, beautiful depicting the Bohemian man, Russian ballerinas and flappers from the roaring twenties. We were entertained by a fine Canadian quartet. Drayton's own version of the McGuire sisters, a comical hill-billy number and a duet by the "Tennessee Lovebirds". Those participating were as follows: Vicky Zucht, Joan Wilson, Betty Brown, Irene Shoultice, Brenda O'Callahan, Joan Machan, Lois Lockwood, Molly McDonald, Jean Baker, Mary Harmon, Patti McKay, Mary Peltoway, Ella Holman, Peg Sutor, Lil Ross, Eva McMillan, Barbara Holan, Frieda Luchak, Ruth Goritz, Eldora Kowal, Joanne Radd, Mary Ellen Jones, Leslie Morton, Dorothy Pollock, Viola Snyder, Doreen Pyle, Vic Hawke, Donald Smith, Henry Zucht, Bill McKay, Dean Meraw and Reg Ross, Olga Giesbrecht.

The minutes of ceremonies for the evening were Bette Bowman and the pianist was Doreen King. The girls put a lot of hard work into the production of this show and the audience reaction proved it to be certainly worthwhile.

Two men were discussing size and the government's use of money. Just then a school bus passed. "So what I mean?" exclaimed one. Now we spend fifty thousand dollars for a gymnasium so they can get exercise."

How do I save?

If there's a fool-proof way to save, I've yet to hear of it. - But one thing I do know. The "Royals" 2-Account Plan makes saving a whole lot easier. Try it: use a "Personal Chequing Account" to pay household and other bills...

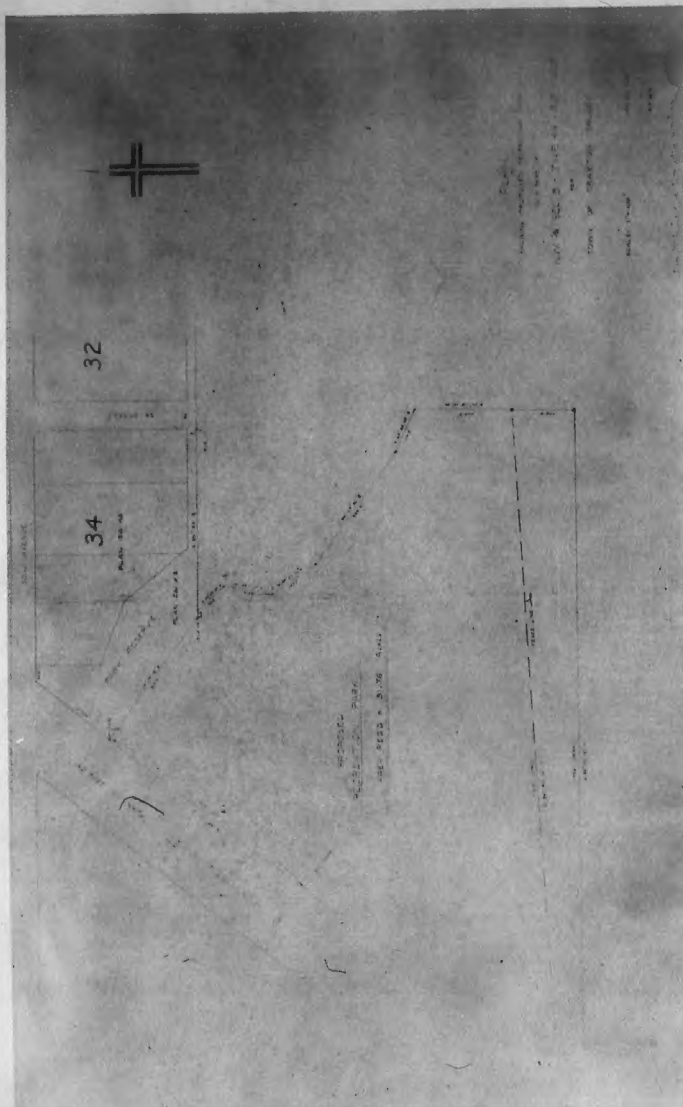

and keep your Savings Account separate - an account reserved for saving only. The plan works. Because when you have two separate accounts you can curb that natural urge to dip into savings, you actually are your savings grow.

COMBS IN C.A.B.C.

Curt's Studio.

"GOLDEN BOY" COMBS ON ALBERTA TEAM.

"Golden Boy" Rufus Combs, the Pembina Panther will represent Alberta at the 139 pound weight limit in the forthcoming Canadian Amateur Boxing Championships.

ships being held in Drayton Valley May 15, 16, and 17. This was decided late Saturday night when the Alberta Branch Boxing Committee of the A.A.U. of C. got together and picked the Provincial team to represent Alberta in the National event.

Combs was the first choice for the 139 pound class with Clarence Wesselaar of Cardston. Blood Borewer coming in at a second pick in this class. Though Combs was declared the 147 pound Provincial and B.C. "Tinsy" of Jasper Place was awarded the same title in the 150 class. It was felt that it would be favorable to all concerned if each boy would drop down a class for the Nationals. It has been a proven fact over the past year that both boys have turned in superior performances at the respective lower weight levels, and to say the least, this smart switch will go along way towards giving Alberta a better balanced title squad when the chips are being in May.

Here is the team that will represent our province in the Championships:

Coach - Jerry Ramsey, Jasper Place, Manager - Tom Harris. Light heavyweight - Al Bruhl, Cold Lake. Middleweight - L. Gordie Kiddell, South Side Legion. Name to be released. A.J.B. Fighter Light middleweight - Mickey

BASKETBALL

D.V. PACERS WIN P.V.B.L. CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Drayton Valley athletes brought home another championship last Saturday night, this time a basketball crown. The powerful Drayton Valley Pacers under the direction of Bob Barber proved themselves to be the rulers of the Pembina Valley Senior Basketball League courts as they swept through a past season round-robin championship tournament at Evansburg. All five league teams, Evansburg, Nilson, Entwistle, Wildwood and Drayton Valley took part in the big journey.

The Pacers drew the Wildwood squad for the first game which got underway early in the afternoon. Wildwood got off to a fast start leading 15-4 after one quarter, but in the second quarter the tide began to turn and after a half of play things were even-seven. In the third quarter Barber took over his big guns and Alvin Hopfe ran wild as Drayton Valley went on a bit

Dr. Ian G. Waugh, M.D., D.C., D.O., D.M.S. Curt's Studio.

Ian G. Waugh was born in County Durham, England. His father was a surgeon in the Old Country. Ian attended Petras College, Oxford and Edinburgh Universities. He is now at the Outland in the south of England. After finishing qualifying for medical practice he joined the R.A.F. Bomber Command, as Medical Officer and was discharged with the rank of Flight Lieutenant. Following the close of the war he came to Canada and the U.S. in 1947 with the R.A.F. 617 Demonstration Squadron. The Squadron was in the U.S. and Canada for about two months and while here the Squadron visited all parts of this continent.

Discharged from the airforce in 1948 Dr. Waugh joined the Accident Service at Redcliffe Infirmary, Oxford. He was there for about two years as Registrar then, in 1950, he became Chairman of the National Medical Board for the Ministry of National Insurance, remaining in that position for about two more years, until the fall of 1950 when he decided to emigrate to Canada.

The decision to leave the Old Country came as the result of conversation in a Club when a man whom he knew happened to mention the need for a doctor on the Coal Branch in Alberta. The friend had an interest in the Coal mines at Coal Valley, and so knew something about medical conditions there. So in the fall of 1950 the Waugh family moved back and baggage and came to Coal Valley where Dr. Ian remained for two years, until he went on to Marcell to take over the administration of the hospital there. In 1954, the Waugh family returned to England for a visit and on his return to Marcell Dr. Waugh turned the administration of the hospital over to the municipality the Improvement District in which Marcell was located.

In the summer of 1959 the mine owners made the decision to close down the mines and Dr. Waugh came to Drayton Valley with his family and started medical practice here. His father Dr. William Gann Waugh and his mother, had accompanied Dr. Ian to the New Land and when he made the move from Marcell to Drayton Valley they came with him and his father was in practice with him in Drayton Valley until he passed away in April, 1960.

Dr. Waugh is a member of the Lions Club, the Drayton Valley Canadian Legion, and the Elks Lodge. He had learned to play the bagpipes at school. Also, while in the school band and since coming here he has often taken part in parades with his pipes.

Dr. Ian married Miss Katherine Mary Goodall Smith. She had qualified in Edinburgh University and held the degrees of M.B., and Ch.B. Her father was Dean of Medicine in Edinburgh University, but Dr. Ian still claims that when he first started courting her he did not know she was the dean's daughter. Her father, Professor Sir Sidney Smith was the author of a number of medical books, one of which "Men-
